PROPANE

PRICE PROTECTION ENROLLMENT

Protect yourself from the volatile fuel market.
Lock in your low rate!

While we cannot predict what next winter will bring, participating in our Price Protection Program (PPP) can help add predictability to your fuel costs. Gain peace of mind knowing you're insured for the worst-case scenario (e.g., unexpected price increases or shortages of products). The PPP allows our customers to effectively budget their fuel costs for the following heating season. Choose between our Pre-Pay Program and Budget Plan, depending on which PPP option best fits your needs.

This year, increased volatility is threatening winter fuel prices. In order to protect your fuel price and keep it low and steady, there is a nominal insurance fee added to your price per gallon. Last year, downside protection led to significant savings and greater peace of mind for our customers.
